STATE LOSES TO A. & M. COLLEGE OF N. CAROLINA

Score Was 15 to 6 in a Close Game in Which Barbee Starred.

AHEAD IN THE FIRST HALF

But Weight Tells and A. & M. Scores
Two Touchdowns in Second.

For the first time this season State University's track football team was defeated at Raleigh, North Carolina, Thursday afternoon by the A. & M. College of North Carolina by the score of 15 to 6.

According to report, the game was a clean, hard fought one, and was lost partly on account of the crippled condition of State's team and partly because the A. & M. team averaged about 30 pounds more to the man than did the blue and white.

The following report of the game was received by The Herald Thursday night from W. A. Obenehain, who accompanied the team to Raleigh:

Report From Raleigh.

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 21.—State University lost to the A. & M. College here this afternoon by the score of 15 to 6, after having put up a strong fight and made a great effort to capture the victory.

At the beginning of the first half, Barbee kicked to A. & M. who advanced it fifteen yards and was forced to punt. Barbee received the ball, but State lost it on downs. A. & M. tried forward pass and failed and Shanklin punted forty-five yards for State. A. & M. then advanced the ball to State's twenty-five yard line and kicked a field goal.

Barbee then kicked to the five yard line, and A. & M. was forced to punt. Shanklin then gained twenty-five yards, Barbee fifteen and Rodes five. Barbee then put the ball over for a touchdown and succeeded in kicking goal.

The ball remained in the middle of the field during the remainder of the half.

Second Half.

In the second half, Campbell took the place of Earle at left guard and A. & M. kicked to State's fifteen yard line. Barbee advanced the ball twenty yards. State then lost the ball on an onside kick. A. & M. forced to punt, but recovered the ball and ear-

They defeated us, but they will remember the game for quite a while.

ried it for a touchdown, kicking goal.

Barbee kicked to A. & M.'s five yard line and the latter was forced to punt. State lost the ball on an onside kick and the ball was see-sawed up and down the field until Hartsell for A. & M. broke away from State and ran for a touchdown kicking goal.

A few minutes later, time was called with the ball in the center of the field.

Time of halves, twenty minutes. State played an all star game, but was out-weighed. Game was a clean one, and there was no one seriously hurt.

The team will arrive home Saturday night at 6:10. State's lineup was as follows:

Shanklin, le; Dunlap, lt; Earle and Campbell, lt; Webb, e; Hendriksson, rg; Ellis, rt; Plummer, re; Barbee, (Capt.) rh; Rodes, lh; Threlkeld, fb; Johnson, qb.

COACH ILL.

Coach Sweetland is ill at his room with what the doctors call a nervous breakdown. He was feeling badly when he went on the Carolina trip, and when he returned he had to be assisted to his home by members of the team.

The entire student body express their sympathy and hope to see the coach, who has done so much for us, out soon.

HALLOW'EEN.

The High School will give an entertainment Friday night, at 8 p.m., in the Y. M. C. A. rooms on Mill street for the benefit of the High School Athletic Association. The entertainment will be in the form of a Hallow'e'en party and much fun and frolic is guaranteed. An admission of ten cents will be asked. All students of Sayre, Hamilton, and Hagerman, will be present, and many other attractions.

T. U.'S APPRECIATION.

With the news of the serious illness of Coach E. R. Sweetland, of State University, there was profound regret expressed among the students of Transylvania University, who have grown very fond of the man who is at the head of athletics of State, on account of his friendliness to Transylvania University and his desire to eliminate the past feeling of the two institutions toward each other.

Since Coach Sweetland has been in Lexington he successfully endeavored to bring about a more friendly feeling between the two institutions along athletical lines. When he arrived in this city last spring to train the track men and football team of State it was none other than the coach of the Blue and White team that assisted in the work of the Transylvania track men.

Later on through his articles written in the Idea he expressed the hope that the two institutions would lay aside their petty jealousies and become more friendly, and fight against the common foe.

Since he has tried to inculcate this feeling into the State men there has been a marked change and on last Saturday when the Crimson team was struggling in the mud with the University of Cincinnati, there were none on the field that were "rooting" harder for the home team than the boys from over on the hill.

Transylvania, too, has caught up the same spirit and in the Tennessee and other games which have been played by State the Transylvania men were "pulling" hard for the Blue and White team and when victory perched on the banner of the Blue and White none were more zealous in their cheering than the T. U. lads.

While the game, which is scheduled for the 13th of November, will be one of the most bitterly fought contests in late years, still the winner will be congratulated by the loser.

A large portion of this feeling between the universities is laid at the door of Coach Sweetland, who, in the midst of his success with the State team, has been stricken down and may not even witness the successes on the field which are to come.

It is the ardent wish of the Transylvania students and football team that E. R. Sweetland, who is passing through the valley of the shadow, will soon be out again and above all things be present on Thanksgiving day when the laurels of the Central-State game are perched on the banner of the Blue and White.

LARGE TESTING MACHINE.

The latest addition to the mechanical department is a testing machine made by Timus, Olsen & Co., of Philadelphia.

Although made primarily to test large beams and columns, smaller tests of compression and tension may be made on it. The machine has a capacity of testing a fifteen-foot column or a twenty-foot beam, with a maximum force of 200,000 pounds per square inch. The operation of the machine is entirely automatic. The weight is about twelve tons. The motive power is a five-horse power D. C. motor.

The machine has some very delicate machinery on it and is considered the best piece of machinery in Lexington. One of the advantages is that a diagram of load and extension is automatically made during the test.

To show the rapidity with which the machine may be operated, the Cambria Steel Works test fifty specimens per hour on one similar to this.

The machine will be used mainly for research work and will be under the supervision of Professor Townsend, who together with the manufacturer's special agent, directed the erection.

This new addition is one of the many things which the mechanical department of the University owns and which are uncommon elsewhere. Not many technical schools own a testing machine which costs twenty-five hundred dollars.

COLLEGE SPIRIT.

The Juniors showed how much spirit they had when two-thirds of the class went out to the station to meet the Varsity upon their return from Raleigh. "Rah" Duncan and his fellow classmates contributed largely to the swell of cheers which arose as the train rolled in past the station.

The players were welcomed by hearty hand-shakes and escorted to the automobiles (furnished by the class) in which they reached home in time for "hay." This is not the only class which has done something for our Varsity squad as the Freshmen are not to be excluded from first place on the list.

OH YOU COEDS!

Young Ladies of Pat. Hall Have Lovely Dance.

A most enjoyable event of last week was the Annual Dance given by the young ladies of State University, at Patterson Hall. This year it was a German, being very gracefully and beautifully led by Miss Mary Barrett Smith and Mr. Charles Noland.

The gynnasium was artistically decorated with autumn leaves, palms and ferns, the electric lights being covered with green shades and several musicians furnished the music. Frappe was served during the evening from a beautifully appointed table in one corner of the hall. During the long intermission sandwiches, olives and fruit were handed. The attractive table was presided over by Misses Anna Simrall and Addie Dean.

Among the guest of this very pleasant occasion were: MARY T.

In the first eight couples, Miss Mary Barrett Smith, Mr. Noland, Miss Annie Dean, Mr. Wallis, Miss Elizabeth Taylor, Mr. Jesse Hibler, Miss Sarah Marshall, Miss Cary Williams, Miss Marietta Cassady, Mr. Pence, Miss Irene Hughes, Mr. Teddy Colt, Miss Hannah Morton, Mr. Frances Hughes, and Miss Miriam Taylor. Mr. Vaughn.

Among others: Miss Salinger, Mr. Spinks, Miss Alma Faulkner, Mr. Christina Pence, Miss Lillian De Jarnett, Mr. Lothard, Miss McCarty, Mr. Fleming, Miss Ginn, Mr. Marion Johnson, Miss Jones, Mr. Gail Parker, Miss Netherton, Mr. Jesse Metcalfe, Miss Jesse Jones, Mr. Stivers, Miss Lydia Eversole, Mr. Bedinger.

Messrs. McChesney, Bennett, T. B. Hayden, E. Thornberry, V. Hill, L. Parks, E. Cary, Allie Grasty.

Mrs. Preston Williams, Mrs. C. R. Melcher, Mrs. Caroline Embry Wallace and Mrs. M. L. Pence.

NEXT VICTIM—ROSE POLLY

The Juniors are having their troubles. Each man in the class gets at least one good "riding" from Professor Willson each day. They are making great and unheard of discoveries in the chemical laboratory and are just finishing a sheet of elementary lettering prior to continuing on kinematic drawing.

This class is, as previous classes have done for years getting smaller in number, due to some of its members hearing a "call" from some other course. Professor Willson puts its "Two by two they cross the river." The question is: Why do they not hear this call until at the beginning of the Junior year? If the call had been heard sooner our deader brothers could have saved the buying of: One slide rule, one electrical hand book, one "Elementary Mechanism," and one "Elements of Electrical Engineering," involving an expenditure of about $14.50. The general answer to the above question is that the "call" is heard because it calls for less work.

The Seniors of course feel their importance (?), like all Seniors do, and now, since their corduroys most of them will have to get a hat at least one size larger than their present one.

The mechanical department is proud of its Seniors because they kee at work and do not loaf half so much as the Seniors of most departments do. Whether or not it is their fault is another question; a question of little concern, since it is a fact that they have enough to do to keep them busy.

NEXT VICTIM—ROSE POLLYCHALLENGE.

To the Honorable Senior Class:

Feeling the joyfullness of youth in our viens, and glorying in our strength, we, the Junior Class, in accordance with the custom of the preceeding classes, do hereby challenge you to play a game of football for the purpose of cherishing the customs of our University, and of determining the relative strength of the Senior and Junior classes.

As some definite time must be set, we challenge you to play this game on Saturday, October the 30th, two halves of fifteen and twenty minutes each, the first half to be played between the halves of the Rose Polly game and the second to be played immediately after this game.

We request the Senior class to notify the Junior class by ten thirty, a. m., Friday, October the twenty-ninth of their decision.

The Juniors feel that as the two upper classes heretofore, have met to match their strength on the football field, and as the University as a whole, demands the game, as the two classes are sound in body and mind and have no reasons for not playing this game, that either class which would not play this game would be unloyal to their class and the University, would not show proper respect for the instructors of their University, and would to say the least, be cowards.

So gentlemen of the Senior class we put it up to you! We cast our gauntlet at your feet! Pick it up and show your worth. Refuse and show yourselves to be worthy of the position you hold!

It is an assured thing now, that State is going to have a boxing class taught by a professional boxer. Professor Mustaine has procured an instructor of rare ability, Mr. Lawrence Milton, of Virginia. To begin with Mr. Milton is a gentleman, coming from one of the best families of his State. He attended the University of Virginia, played on the football team, entered the navy at eighteen and served in the Spanish War. He has traveled all over the world and knows something of it. He started boxing when quite young, has boxed before the largest clubs in the country, and has the distinction of never having been knocked out. He has had much experience in teaching boxing and Professor Mustaine is to be congratulated on the prospects of the class.

Professor requests all persons interested to call on him at his office and learn more about the class. The more pupils in the class the cheaper the cost will be, and it will be cheap, for Mr. Milton will give twenty-four lessons or more if the student requires it.

The Hipp this week is not above the average but the average is so high there is no disparagement.

The Great Stadwin trio, aerobats open the bill, while Charlie Hughes and Miss Lora Tiffany are all the laugh producers in their singing act. Fairechild and Van Buren in their comedy playlet "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" touch the ridiculous and sublime.

The "Ozone Inn" Company is very pleasing, while Professor Barnaber Ulysses Gordon Splash, B. U. G. S. is certainly more than bugs.

We know that it is very bad taste to kick and give excuses, and we will try to remember Tennessee and keep from it, but there are one or two other things we would like to say.

In the first place it never should have happened. The Athletic committee admit that they were foolish in scheduling a game like that so soon after the Tennessee game, a game where the team had to travel three days.

In the second place the Tar Heels admitted themselves to be professionals and offered one of our players tuition, expenses, and a little on the side to come there and play football.

In the third place—but what is the use, they licked us, and remember Tennessee.

SOPH-FRESH GAME.

Among the many events of the past week was the inter-class game on Stoll Field, Thursday, October 21st. After Photographer Nallau had "focused" both teams the game was called.

The Freshies started punting the ball down the field in good fashion, but incomplete passes, failure of straight bucks and no end runs were telling against them.

The Sophs continually ploughed through the line and worked their end runs and passes with more success than the Freshies.

After the Sophs had fumbled and recovered the ball, and returned it in the center field Hart got away on an end run and made a forty yard run for a touchdown. Adair failed to kick goal so the ball was returned to center field. Estill punted the ball in play by kicking off to the Sophs. Adair returned the ball to the Freshies by a punt, only to be recovered by the Sophs, on account of fumbling. An end run, and "full" through right guard put the ball on the thirty-yard line.

Captain Utley then showed what he could do for his winning team by scoring another touchdown. Goal was missed and the ball put in play at center-field again. Time was called for end of first half. Soph, 10—Fresh, 0.

During the second half of the game the ball see-sawed back and forth in the center field; the referee and umpire both helping the cause a little. Collins, the Soph center, picked up a fumble and ran 25 yards to safety, only to be recalled by the referee. Farmer and Estill were taken from the game on account of slight injuries but the Freshies did not let up. They seemed to take a new "hold" on the game and were trying hard for good gains when time was called.

Score: Soph, 10; Fresh 00. Time of halves 30-20. Touchdowns, Ultry and Hart. Referee, Wilson; Umpire, Van Meter. Time, Keeps, Clark and Hailey. Linesman, Neighbors.

Shanklin, Estill Barnett and Farmer of the Freshmen and Ultry, Hart and Watkins of the Sophomores were the sensationalists of the game. The lineup was as follows:

Soph.—Left end, Lewis; tackle, Truesing; guard, Galloway; Center, Collins; Guard, Graber; Tackle, Foster; rt end, Watkins; quarter, Meadors, lh, Hard; f, Adair; rh, Ultry.

Fresh.—le, Barnett; lt, Harrison; lg, Richardson; e, Fitzpatrick; rg, Carnthers; rt, Hall; re, Estill, Wilson; q, Farmer, Shanklin; lw, Preston; f, Wilson, Shanklin; rh, Strueing.

AGRICULTURAL JUDGING CLASS

Last Saturday the live stock judging class was taken to Winchester, where its members inspected the Short Horn cattle on the farm of Mr. Abe Renicks. For several generations the Renicks family has made the raising of fine Short Horn cattle a specialty and at present they have probably the finest herd in the country. The class enjoyed the trip immensely.

Among those who went were Messrs. Ewan, Eastwood, Hillenmeyer, Oosteisen, Ball and Prof. Hooper.

SONGS FOR STATE.

Polytech Game.

The first two songs the writer has altered somewhat: I and II being taken from the "Minnesota Daily."

I.

Tune: "Take me out to the Ball Game."
Take me out to the football game,
Take me out with the crowd
Buy me some pennant and megaphones.
I do not care if I do get too loud
For it's root, root, root for Kentucky.
If we don't win it's a shame,
For it's one, two, three downs and out
At our football game.

II.

Tune: "See-Saw."
(Not "Life is a See-Saw.")
Foot-ball, foot-ball
Making ten yards every down,
Now don't it just seem like a threshing machine
That's turning and whirling and hurling around
As we go through—your line.
You won't come back ever more,
Look at the board, see how much we have scored
With your old foot-ball.

III.

Tune: "John Brown's Body."
Verse 1.
Rose Poly boys are doomed to meet their fate

When they try to make a gain to meat old Ky. State.
For we'll "rush thru center" and "run 'em round the end"
As we go playing on.

Chorus:
Glory! glory to the Blue and White.
Glory! glory! to our colors bright
Glory! glory to the Blue and White.
Kentucky State celebrates to-night.

Verse 2.

Polytechnic boys aren't worth "a tink of s'euss,"
For they can't make passes nor line
bucks on us.
We hit 'em hard and low to show 'em
we are the stiff,
And we're goin' to kill their bluff.
Chorus: Same as above.

Some Yells For Your Consideration.

I.

SAYRE COLLEGE NOTES.

The chief event of last week was the mock wedding of Miss Bonnie Gibbons to Mr. F. Eadens, which was solemnized in the chapel, Thursday at nine o'clock.

The ceremony was very solemn and oppressive, Mr. J. Croft being the officiating minister.

The bridal party was led by two pretty little flower girls Miss Mary Mays and Miss Katherine Mitchel. Next entered the maid of honor Miss Spencer. Then came the bridesmaids and groomsmen; Miss Florene Matlock, Mr. Cecil Ohenehain, Miss Patsy Hayal and Mr. M. Yandel.

The bride who entered with the groom never looked prettier than in her wedding gown of white muslin.

Her bouquet was of autumn leaves.

During the ceremony a chorus softly chanted, "I would rather be Mrs. than Miss."

The members of the Lambela Alpha Lambela Sorority will entertain with a Hallowe'en party next Saturday.

Miss Margaret Steele went to Nielasville Wednesday, to attend the marriage of her cousin Miss Anna Hughes to Mr. Morgan Sparke.

PATTERSON LITERARY NOTES.

The members of the Patterson Literary Society were fortunate in having with us at our last meeting, Professor J. T. C. Noe, of the Department of Education and one of the best informed men on literature that we ever met. Professor Noe gave us a very interesting and instructive lecture on the poetry of James Whitcomb Riley, prefacing his lecture paper by a few remarks on what constitutes a really great poet. Some of Riley's most characteristic poems were read to us by Professor Noe to illustrate certain statements. By this lecture we were enabled to see the greatness of this poet as we probably would never have done otherwise.

On account of the inclemency of the weather, only a very small crowd was present, but those present greatly appreciated Professor Noe's talk and sincerely hope he will honor us with another visit sometime within the near future.

NEXT VICTIM—ROSE POLLY

Miss Elizabeth Metcalfe of Carlisle, and Miss Louise Martin of Lexington were the guests of Miss Jessie Metcalfe and Miss Blanche Netherton at Patterson Hall last Friday.

Two young hearts are happy again because one Senior has removed "that horrid mustache." Verily there is joy at Patterson Hall over one sinner that repented.

Those wishing "inside information" about the latest thing in love affairs, see Mr. GUDGEL.

We understand that Miss Parker is walking miles back and forth every day. She confesses to a weak constitution and this exercise was designed by Mrs. Stout for her especial benefit.

SATURDAY'S EARLY DAWN.

At four-thirty o'clock Saturday morning last, alarm clocks of all sizes and descriptions went off in the dormitories and great was the din thereof. It was not long before most of the fellows were up and raising a disturbance sufficient to wake the dead. Pans, buckets, badges, drums and every kind of noise-producing instruments procurable were put into service and it was not many minutes until about one hundred and fifty of the fellows had gathered together, ready in spite of the rain, to journey to the Queen and Crescent Depot and meet the team.

The few spiritless bone heads, who remained in their rooms, were given a nice sized dose of "strap oil" when the fellows returned from the train. We are glad to say that there were not more than a dozen fellows in the dormitories who failed to meet the train.

Miss Elizabeth Fried entertained her sorority at luncheon at her home, Saturday. Among those present were Misses Esther Vaughn, Ruby Fleming, Bess Hayden, Marion Johnson, Lida McCarty, and Helen Fullenlove.

NEXT VICTIM—ROSE POLLY

The Y. M. C. A. is holding some very interesting meetings each week. However, the fellows do not take the proper interest in this work and we do not have anything like as many at these meetings as we should have. Everyone is cordially and earnestly invited to attend these meetings, whether he be a member of the Y. M. C. A., or not. The meetings are held every Tuesday evening at seven o'clock. Come out!

MECHANICAL HALL NOTES.

The mechanical hall presents a busy scene at all times of the day just now. The shops run both morning and afternoon and the drawing rooms are most always occupied.

The Freshmen just beginning to know what a good sheet of letters look like, although they cannot make such a sheet themselves. The class is now having the easiest time in the course, and the older students advise them to make the best of their time, because the work gradually grows stiffer until the Senior is almost expected to put in twenty-six hours a day.

The Sophomores have learned at least one thing this year, and that is this: there are others who can kick besides Maud. This they learned in the forge shop and from Mr. Dicker. Most of them know what He O is by this time and also have heard of something called "moment of inertia."

NEXT VICTIM—ROSE POLLY

"THE BLUE AND WHITE."

The game'tis on for our boys on the sward,

'Tis pleasure to notice their smile
The ball's kicked off, and they hit the others hard,

And the rooters make noise all the while.

The ball's carried over the long sought for goal,

All merry, all happy, all bright
The "Ump." calls time and we shiver in the cold

Then all glory to the team in "Blue 'n' White."

Chorus.

Play real our laddies,

Oh, play real hard today!
You'll win one more game for our old K. S. U.,
For our old K. S. U. fight away.

They try no more to buck your sturdy line,

At the center, the tackle, the guard;
They try to run around your end each time,

But the way they are tackled 'tis hard.

Now, you carry the ball by trick, pass and run,

Your swiftness we hail with delight;
A few more goals and the game will be won,

Then all honor to the team in "Blue 'n' White."

The team must lose that faces you today,

No matter whatever they try;
A few more tricks and they'll have no more to play,

For you fight with blood in your eye.

A few long runs across the slipp'ry mead,

Now hurry, for 'twill soon be night;

Do your best—is all that you'll need
To bring championship home to "Blue 'n' White."

Non-Resident Lecture Course of the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering.

A very important feature of the work of a technical school is the non-resident lecture course, and the State University of Kentucky has made arrangements this year in the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, for about twenty-five prominent men in industrial and engineering work to come for the purpose of lecturing to the senior and junior mechanical engineers. The first lecture of the year was Mr. William Gibson, formerly General Superintendent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. Mr. Gibson's lecture was not of a technical character, but dealt with the subject of engineers paying much attention to the cultural side of their development. The lecture will be published in full in the Record, and those who heard the address, felt that they had been given a great literary treat. Mr. Gibson believes that the general education of engineers is just as important as the technical side.

During November, Mr. D. F. Crawford, General Superintendent of Motive Power of the Pennsylvania Railroad, will lecture on the Locomotive Performance. Mr. Crawford is one of the men who is very largely responsible for the splendid development of the Pennsylvania Railroad system, and he is sure to interest and inspire the young engineer.

Another lecturer of considerable prominence will be Mr. G. H. Groce, of Chicago, Assistant General Manager of the Illinois Central, whose subject will be Train Signaling and Train Dispatching.

During December the two lecturers will be, President W. W. Finley, of Washington, D. C., President of the Southern Railway, and Mr. T. C. Powell, Vice-President of the Queen & Crescent.

Other speakers during the year will be President W. E. Stone, of Purdue; Professor W. F. M. Goss, Dean of the College of Engineering, Illinois State University; Professor W. H. P. Creighton of New Orleans, Professor of Mechanical Engineering, Tulane University; Mr. Horace Baker, General Manager of the Queen & Crescent; Mr. J. F. Walsh, Superintendent of Motive Power, C. & O. Railway, Richmond, Virginia; Mr. G. W. Stevens, President of C. & O. Railroad, Richmond, Virginia, and Mr. Charles Splitdorf of New York. Manufacturer of Magneto and Coils; and arrangements are being perfected for a number of other prominent engineers and manufacturers.

This course of lectures is bound to be of great value to the student, not only from the standpoint of letting him know the views of men who have been successful, but from the standpoint of having him come in contact with the personality of men who have been important elements in our industrial developments along various important lines.
